

Taking an Exception to the Westminster Standards:

Not understanding a Confessional statement isn't the same as having an exception to it. (I affirm the Biblical and Confessional teaching on the Trinity although it is difficult to understand.)

Simply disagreeing with a statement may be the result of a lack of knowledge, content, or usage.

An exception requires both a statement of disagreement and a Biblical alternative in place of it. Using Scriptures, you must affirm a different position.
